❖ Construction of dyke for dam:-

Volunteers of National Service Scheme Department constructed a construction of dyke and refilled the dam at adopted village Pimpalner. Two groups of NSS students were given the responsibility of replenishing the dam. After that, the dam wall was totally cleared of all vegetation, a wall about 95 to 100 feet long was drawn, and work began on it. On this wall, dirt, debris, and stones were flung. The volunteers cleared the lake of all silt and broken stones, throwing them in a public area. The excavation wall also received dirt.

Volunteers dug 15 to 20 feet long and 2 to 2.5 feet deep along the side of the pond and filled it. NSS volunteers deepening the lake and stones are carried to the edge. This year, due to the labor done by the volunteers, the water supply has definitely increased, which will help in increasing the water level of wells and borewells in the area. Also, water will be available for animals to drink and greenery will grow in the area.

While deepening the dam, stones are carried to the edge

The wall of the dam was 4 feet wide and filled 3 to 4 feet high from the bottom. This entire work took about 10 to 11 bars of digging. Also, if there was heavy rain, a pour out was removed to excess of water. Seeing the work done by NSS volunteers together, all the NSS volunteers were happy and motivated and realized the importance of “Ekiche bal” i.e. strength of all together. .
